Detailed Reviewer's Report

- Line no 1: The title is relevant and conceptually strong and it clearly indicates interdisciplinary engagement. But “21ST 1 CENTURY’S” appears to be a formatting/typing error. “Century’s” should be “Century” (no possessive form needed). You can reframe it with ‘Ecological Discourse in 21st-Century Hindi Literature: An Interdisciplinary Dialogue for Resilience and Sustainability’
- Line 6-26: In abstract Some grammatical and spacing errors (e.g., “respectivelyhave,” spacing issues). Does not clearly state research gap.
- Line no 32-63: Over-generalized philosophical statements. Some moralistic tone (“barbaric history of humans becoming civilized”). Repetition of definitions. Needs clearer research questions and objectives.
- Use the proper referencing style.
- Use the objectives for the study.
- Elaborate the methodology and data collection method.
- Critically analyse the data and mention the scope and limitation for the study.
