Detailed Reviewer's Report

The paper talks about an important issue under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012, but a few things make it harder to read than it needs to be. The abstract has too many headings (like Background, Method, Results), which makes it look cluttered instead of a simple summary. It would be better as one-two clear paragraphs. The language is also quite heavy in places, so simplifying it would help readers understand the points more easily. There are also some small issues like repeated or unclear references. Fixing these would make the paper look cleaner, more readable and more professional.

Recommended after major revisions.
