Detailed Reviewer's Report

Decision: Accept after Major Revision

Major Comments

- The manuscript requires a clearer statement of novelty and research contribution. The authors should explicitly distinguish their work from existing studies and clearly articulate the unique scientific contribution of the proposed approach.
- The methodology requires further justification and detail. The research design, data collection, experimental setup, and evaluation procedures should be described more comprehensively to ensure reproducibility and scientific rigor.
- The experimental evaluation should be strengthened. Additional validation, comparative analysis with recent state-of-the-art methods, and statistical analysis are needed to demonstrate the effectiveness and robustness of the proposed approach.
- The discussion of results should be expanded. The manuscript should provide deeper interpretation of the findings, explain their practical significance, and discuss the reasons behind the observed performance.

REVIEWER'S REPORT

5. The limitations and future research directions should be discussed more comprehensively. The authors should acknowledge the study's limitations and propose specific directions for future work to improve the overall quality of the manuscript.

Minor Comments

1. Revise the abstract to more clearly summarize the objectives, methodology, key findings, and major contributions.
2. Update the literature review by incorporating more recent and relevant references published in the last few years.
3. Improve the quality and readability of figures and tables by ensuring consistent formatting, captions, and labeling.
4. Carefully proofread the manuscript to correct grammatical errors, improve sentence structure, and enhance readability.
5. Ensure that all references are complete, consistently formatted, and comply with the journal's citation style.
