Detailed Reviewer's Report

The study is fairly conducted. It addresses the topic and presents the study in an understandable discourse. The manuscript has good flow and clarity too with good explanation. The manuscript makes a meaningful contribution to the existing literature. The results are carefully discussed. The findings are presented clearly and are supported by the evidence and discussions provided.

Required Revision:

Lack of Citations- The manuscript contains a comprehensive reference list at the end, but there are absolutely no corresponding in-text citations throughout the manuscript which make it loose the credibility. Every academic claim, data point and frame work borrowed from literature must be explicitly credited within the text.

The author must thoroughly revise the manuscript to map references to its specific usage in the text (e.g., using [Author, [Author, year] or numbered brackets, depending on the pattern/format followed by the author.
