Reviewer's Comment for Publication.

The manuscript addresses an important and timely topic concerning digital procurement governance and local supplier integration in Saudi Arabia's urban development projects. The conceptual framework is comprehensive, well-organized, and provides valuable insights into procurement transparency, supplier development, digital interoperability, and supply chain resilience. However, minor revisions are required to improve grammatical accuracy, academic language, and consistency in terminology. The review methodology and reference details should also be carefully checked to ensure clarity and bibliographic accuracy. Overall, the manuscript has good potential and is suitable for publication after minor revision.
